PLEUROPNEUMONIA.

The Much-Dreaded Disease Bradi-
cated From Our Soil.

TEXAS FEVER NEARLY EXTERMINATED.

Successful Efforts of the Bureau of Animal Industry—Inspection of Canadian Horses and Cattle Should Be Provided For.

The Report That They Were Cut on Board the Bohemia Detailed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—According to the report of the Bureau of Animal Industry—Inspection of the Bureau of Animal Industry for the year 1882, laid before the Senate yesterday, the work of stamping out pleuropneumonia has been carried on as rapidly as was possible under the prevailing conditions of the country and the disease has completely disappeared. The scope of the work of the Bureau, however, has therefore been greatly reduced. "Texas fever," Secretaries Rank-side, "was complete. And this dangerous and much-dreaded disease has been eradicated from our soil, and the United States the first of the large nations of the world which have been once extensively affected, has been able to completely extirpate it. The time required was only about five years, and the expense a little less than $1,500,000."

"The regulations for preventing the dissemination of Texas fever have not hindered the shipment of cattle from the infected districts to the markets for slaughter, nor have they depreciated the value of these cattle. The numerous outbreaks of this disease which have been the rule in former years, have been eradicated, and the fact effectually disproves the statement that the disease was cut on board the Bohemia."

When the lines parted the Bohemia stopped and signaled repeatedly to the Umbria, but no answer was received. When they were about to leave, it was clearly seen that the Umbria had no sign of her could be seen. The Bohemia, therefore, proceeded on her voyage.

It is shown that one of the main causes of the appearance of the fever among export cattle is the shipment of animals in cars which had not been disinfected, and the prevention of the disease, until congress enacts some legislation will compel railroads to comply with regulations for cleaning and disinfecting cars. During 1882 there were reported 131 head of cattle in the export trade affected with this disease, as compared with 931 during 1881.

Animals imported from Canada are inspected owing to the prevalence of foot-and-mouth disease and pleuropneumonia in Europe, and the constant importation of animals from Europe into Canada. There is no authority to inspect imported horses, but as these animals are liable to be affected by contagious diseases, the secretary says that the Bureau will make such inspections. "The work of meat inspection has more than justified the hopes of its promoters and fully warrants the comparatively small expense incurred by the government for its maintenance," says the secretary on this subject. The total cost of this bureau for the year has been $615,419.

The Trial of the Invading Commander

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 6.—Promptly at 10 o'clock yesterday in the district court of the city of Cheyenne was held the trial of the notorious admiral, Judge Davidson and Ballard, of Denver, and Breckenridge and Haywood,
of Buffalo, Wyo., who were indicted on a charge of conspiracy in the attempt to overthrow the government.

According to those interviewed, the commander of the Bohemia would have been only too glad to have saved the Umbria to port, and had his lines not been cut, he would certainly have done so. The lines were cut to the great strain upon them, and not to their having been cut on the Bohemia, and any statement to the contrary is not based upon knowledge of the facts.

FRIDAY EVE, JAN 6, 1893

SENATOR WARREN from the select committee on women suffrage has reported to the United States Senate a joint resolution to amend the constitution extending the right of suffrage to women. Senator Vance of North Carolina presented a minority report against extending the right of citizenship to women.

These are Democrats who really fear they will not be offices enough to go around. A representative from Indiana, in one of these men, and with the view of widening the franchise to women suffrage has introduced a bill which provides that the terms of all persons appointed to offices under the United States government shall be for four years, whether under civil service or otherwise, and no person is to be eligible to hold office for more than eight years; and all persons who have held offices for this length of time, or longer, and not be eligible to hold office after July 4th, 1898.

A DISPATCH from Pittsburg advises that the Carnegie mills at Homestead are running in every department after a short shut down for repairs. The same report says that during the shut down many of the employees left, which made room for as many old employees who were anxious to get their old places. It left to themselves these men will not again abandon their places, while requiring good wages, at the command of agitators who never gave a laboring man a day's work in their lives, but who, on the other hand, are enjoying salaries and incomes at the expense of other men's labor. The Harvardian has repeatedly said and still insists that those men, whatever their faults may be, who put their money and their brains at work in channels where they give labor a chance to be employed, are better friends of labor than all the capitolists and theocrats in the country who talk about the "labor question" and "war between capital and labor" and yet never give a laboring man employment who wants to work. The workmen at Homestead have proudly demonstrated these facts to their own satisfaction, and to-day, instead of applying to the theorist who promised to keep them and their families well fed in places, are applying to those who have work to give them at good wages.

Hunting a Convenient Hole Democratic leaders profess to be much exercised over what they call a bankrupt treasury. The same leaders in Congress in the session of 1891-2 made the largest appropriations of any congress since the war and are largely responsible for the small balance in the treasury. The same men have been proclaiming to the people that they have been unselfishly taxed to support the government, and have promised to reduce taxation. The same demagogues refuse now to say what the party proposes to do with the tariff further than to suggest an increase of taxation.

These facts taken together show the inconsistency of Democratic pretensions and the baseness of the party as at present organized. In 1884 they proclaimed about the surplus in the treasury. The McKinley tariff had reduced the needs of the government, and now these Democratic leaders are talking about a bankrupt treasury. The facts are that the party, having passed from the stage of objectors to that of responsible actors, anticipating their inability to keep the promises they made to the people, are turning up expense to blind the eyes of the masses. They are afraid to carry out their platform pledges to repeal the protective tariff law, and are looking for an excuse for a failure to do so.

Cleveland has given out the word that the only tariff changes the Democrats will make is to put raw materials on the free list, and she began giving free rapidly, and lower the duties on some of them in the McKinley law.

Intelligent people will not permit that party to be out of its promise in that way, because they know that a free trade tariff can be enacted that will yield money sufficient to defray the expenses of government. This can be done by taxing such articles as are not produced in this country. Sugar, coffee, tea, coco and spices could be taxed, and in addition to this, the income tax law could be re-enacted, and in this way they can more than meet any loss at the custom house, which would result from the removal of some of the duties fixed by the protective tariff law.

After Catheleye. The priests in the arch-diocese of New York have been requested to sign a circular protesting against the unfavorable comments upon the result of Mr. Stetson's mission to the country, which have appeared in several papers, purporting to be published in the interest of the Catholic church. The circular denounces Stetson's critics in unmeasured language and intimates that they are the friends of Catheleye and treat him as an American scion as follows:

It means the introduction of Irish, German, Italian, Hungarian, Polish, and other nationalities, and such and such other ideals thoughts of native countries as should have died there.

Turner will be an important business meeting of the Royal Masons this evening at the office of Miles Bros. & Hulme. All members are requested to be present.

Turner on the railroad has fallen off considerably since the holidays, and there is quite a lull in the freight business. This is also true in local mercantile circles.

PLEUROPNEUMONIA.

The Much-Dreaded Disease Eradicated From Our Soil.

TEXAS FEVER NEARLY EXTERMINATED.

Successful Efforts of the Bureau of Animal Industry—Inspection of Cattle and Horses and Cattle Should Be Provided For.

Operations of the Bureau of Animal Industry for 1892.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—According to the report of Secretary Russ on the operations of the bureau of animal industry for the year 1892 laid before the Senate yesterday, the work of stamping out pleuropneumonia has been carried on as rapidly as was possible under the prevailing conditions of the country and the disease has completely disappeared. "The scope of this branch of the work of the bureau, has therefore," Secretary Russ adds, "been complete. And this dangerous and much-dreaded disease has been eradicated from our soil, and the United States is the first of the large nations of the world which, having been once extensively affected, has been able to completely extirpate it. The time required was only about five years, and the total expenditure a little in excess of $1,000,000.

The results of the efforts for preventing the disease in Texas have not hindered the shipment of cattle from the infected districts to the markets for slaughter, nor have they depreciated the value of these cattle. The numerous outbreaks of this disease which have been the rule in former seasons, have not occurred, and with the exception of an outbreak in western Texas and one in Lyons and adjoining counties in Kansas, none have been reported.

It is shown that one of the main causes of the appearance of the fever among export cattle is the shipment of animals in cars which had not been disinfected, and the prevention of the disease, the secretary says, will not be absolute until congress enacts some legislation that will compel railroads to comply with regulations for cleaning and disinfecting cars. During 1892 there were reported 139 head of cattle in the export trade affected with this disease, as compared with 921 during 1891.

Animals imported from Canada are inspected owing to the prevalence of foot-and-mouth disease and pleuropneumonia in Europe, and the constant importation of animals from Europe into Canada. There is no authority to inspect imported horses, but as these animals are liable to be affected by contagious diseases, the secretary says that some provision should be made for their inspection. "The work of meat inspection has more than justified the hopes of its promoters and fully warrants the comparatively expensive and costly work done by the government for its maintenance," says the secretary of this subject. The total cost of this bureau for the year has been $644,419.

The Trial of the Invading Cattlemen Commenced

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 6.—Promptly at 10 o'clock yesterday in the district court the trial of the cattlemen who invaded Johnson county was commenced. Judge Scott instructed the clerk to enter an order that all persons appear in court without arms, and that this order shall apply to witnesses and spectators. The sheriff was directed to see that the order was strictly enforced. The case was then taken up. Of the forty-four defendants in the case only twenty-four were present.

The trial will hardly begin in earnest this week. At noon the regular panel had been exhausted, and not a man had been retained. The sheriff subpoenaed fifty more men for jury service. Judge Davidson and Ballard, of Denver, and Breckins and Heywood, of Buffalo, Wyo., who represent the prosecution in the cattlemen's case, and Judge Vandever, Brown, Stoll and Douselman, who represent the defendants, were on hand and ready for business.

Enormous Losses Through Bogus Panama Canal Contracts

PANAMA, Jan. 6.—The parliamentary commission of inquiry resumed yesterday their sittings, suspended during the holidays. The principal witness called was M. Lacoste de Villegas, Minister, monarchist, deputy for Mayenne. He said that the expenditure of the Panama Canal Co. in corrupting the press was trifling when compared with the enormous amount lost through bogus contracts. He urged the commission to call the principal contractors and examine them as to their contracts, suspended during the holidays. The principal witness called was M. Lacoste de Villegas, Minister, monarchist, deputy for Mayenne. He said that the expenditure of the Panama Canal Co. in corrupting the press was trifling when compared with the enormous amount lost through bogus contracts. He urged the commission to call the principal contractors and examine them as to the amounts received and the work actually done. The wide discrepancy between the two items would be effective.

The bill went over till Monday next, to morrow and Saturday having been set apart for the consideration of the bills in relation to the quarantine and immigration laws.

The demand of Mr. Botts (Dem., Pa.) for the regular order, called off any requests for adjournment, and the bill was referred to the committee on appropriations. The bill was referred to the committee on appropriations, reported the District of Columbia appropriation bill, and it was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The consideration of private pension bills was suspended. And a few of the measures were passed without opposition, because little if any attention was paid to them, and then, at 9:30 o'clock, there was no quorum present, the house adjourned.

The Credit Lyonnaise Not Responsible for Mr. Blonduin's Act.

PANS, Jan. 6.—M. Blonduin, who was arrested by order of the minister of finance in connection with the Panama canal investigation, is simply a cleric in the employ of the Credit Lyonnaise, without any connection with or responsibility for its management, and his employment a cleric with the Credit Lyonnaise began some time after the period of his alleged complicity in the Panama scandal. It will be seen, therefore, that the mention of the Credit Lyonnaise in connection with the arrest of M. Blonduin should not be interpreted as that the president was in failing health must have originated with some one with little opportunity to know the truth. The fact is the president is in perfect health, and has not in four years been away from his desk a single day from personal sickness. "I would make him to be now at his very prime, and with the greatest business capacity he has had in his life, and his singular habits of work, he has been able to accomplish nearly all will be here to Saturday, and that things will then take definite shape.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 6.—Nothing has transpired regarding the senatorial contest. Gall Hamilton's Bitter Arrangement of Gladstone.

THE MURDER OF FLORENCE MAYBRICK.

By Slow Torture in Woking Prison, Laid at the Great Statesman's Door
—A Responsibility That Cannot Be Shifted.

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—Miss Abigail Dodge "Gall Hamilton" has re-opened her bat-talions in the Maybrick case, and last night published a long statement, addressed to Hon. W. E. Gladstone, the British prime minister. She says, in part: "In the name of God, arraign you, the head of the British government, for the murder of Florence Maybrick, now dying in the convict prison at Woking. The home secretary of the late government done the torture; the late prime minister, who sustained him in it; the present home secretary, who continues it—these are all as guilty as you, but I do not know whether they believe in a God. You believe in God."

"It is therefore because you believe in God that I invoke the witness of Almighty God while I charge you with the murder of the innocent woman who is perishing in Woking prison. We are here to demand justice in the name of mercy. I ask for justice, and for justice only, and I ask it in her own stern and sacred name."

"You have been personally appealed to, and you have passed on by the other side. You have said it was the business of the home office, which would, of course, do its duty. It is the old pretext of Cain. What ground have you for assuming that the home office does not know?"

"We appeal to the home office and the home office asks for 'new evidence.' This cry of 'new evidence' of innocence is used to dislodge the terrible fact that there is no evidence of guilt; and it is unjust, illegal, odious. With all the wealth of the government at your disposal, will all the machinery of the courts and the machinery of your government's power be used to sustain this? The home office could furnish a list of 100 of us guilty, and you bind her hands and foot in a living tomb and demand that she shall produce evidence of her innocence. The British government not only murders her, but slanders her. But in life that it is resentment of American intervention which keeps her prison door locked. This is a false pretext. Her prison doors were locked for two years before American agitation commenced."

FRIDAY EVE, JAN 6, 1893

SENATOR WARREN from the select committee on woman suffrage has reported to the United States Senate a joint resolution to amend the constitution extending the right of suffrage to women. Senator W. of North Carolina presented a minority report against extending the right of citizenship to women.

There are Democrats who really fear there will not be offices enough to go around. B. representative Martin, of Indiana, is one of these men, and with the view of widening the opportunities to give Democrats places has introduced a bill which provides that the terms of all persons appointed to offices under the United States government shall be for four years, whether under civil service or otherwise, and no person is to be eligible to hold office for more than eight years; and all persons who have held office for this length of time, or longer, are not to be eligible to hold office after July 1st, 1893.

A DESPATCH from Pittsburgh states that the Carnegie mills at Homestead are running in every department, after a short shut down for repairs. The same report says that during the shut down many of the employees left, which made room for as many old employees who were anxious to get their old places. It left to themselves these men will not again abandon their places, while receiving good wages, at the command of agitators who never gave a laboring man a day's work in their lives, but who, on the other hand, are enjoying salaries and incomes at the expense of other men's labor. The Republicans have repeatedly said and still insist that those men, whatever their faults may be, who put their money and their brains at work in places where they give labor a chance to be employed, are better friends of labor than all the capitalists and theocrats in the country who talk about the "labor question," and "war between capital and labor," and yet never give a laboring man employment who wants to work. The workmen at Homestead have practically demonstrated these facts to their own satisfaction, and to-day, instead of applying to the theorist who promised to keep them and their families well fed in leisure, are applying to those who have work to give them at good wages.

Hunting a Convenient Hole
Democratic leaders profess to be much exercised over what they call a bankrupt treasury. The same leaders in congress in the session of 1891-2 made the largest appropriations of any congress since the war and are largely responsible for the small balance in the treasury. The same men have been proclaiming to the people that they have been unmercifully taxed to support the government, and have promised to reduce taxation. The same demagogues refuse now to say what the party proposed to do with the tariff further than to suggest an increase of taxation.

These facts taken together show the inconsistency of Democratic pretensions and the bungling of the party as at present organized. In 1884 they complained about the surplus in the treasury. The McKinley tariff law reduced what Democrats like to call tariff taxes to the needs of the government, and now these D. mocrac leaders are bowing before a bankrupt treasury. The facts are that that party, having passed from the stage of objectors to that of responsible actors, anticipating their inability to keep the promises they made to the people, are tramping up expenses to blind the eyes of the masses. They are afraid to carry out their platform pledge to repeal the protective tariff laws, and are looking for an excuse for a failure to do so.

Clarendon has given out the word that the only tariff changes the Democrats will make is to put raw material on the free list, (a clear gift to the manufacturer) and lower the duties on some other items in the McKinley law.

Intelligent people will not permit that party to live out of the promises in that way, because they know that a free trade tariff can be enacted that will yield money sufficient to defray the expenses of government. This can be done by taxing such articles as are not produced in this country. Sugar, coffee, tea, coco and spices could be taxed, and in addition to this, the income tax law could be enacted, and in this way they can tax more than most any loss at the custom house, which would result from the removal of every one of the duties fixed by the protective tariff laws.

WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON and others of the Anti-Slavery Society are interested in a project for the construction of a new Anti-Slavery Society, who wants to preserve his countrymen in America by being victimized by slaves from the flowing land.

Restricting Immigration

It seems to be an honest effort made in Congress to restrict foreign immigration, and to-day the immigration bills introduced in the Senate are the special order. The popular bill, in addition to the persons excluded by present laws, provides for the following restrictions:

1. All persons physically incapable and over 12 years of age who cannot read and write with reasonable facility their own language, except those who are not so able to read and write who is the parent or grandparent of an admissible immigrant may accompany or be admitted.

2. All persons not provided, in addition to means of reaching their final destination, with sufficient money of their own or the heads of their families for their comfortable support for two months after their arrival, the amount to be required not exceeding $100 for each person, or twice of that amount, or $25 for each member of a family according to family or for such head of a family.

3. Persons blind or crippled or otherwise physically imperfect so they are wholly or partially disabled from using their limbs, except those who are physically disabled and who are not able to earn a living by their own means.

4. Persons belonging to societies which

SOCIAL SELFISHNESS.

Notes of Duty in the Entertainment of Company.

A witty and mischievous gentleman who accepted many invitations without returning them, but who contributed greatly to the general entertainment, once defended himself by saying:

"My friends give the dinners, but I furnish the salt."

If he was parsimonious in the matter of dinners, he was generous with his best thoughts, his most cheerful and enterprising stories, finding one social duty although he neglected another.

This social duty of giving in conversation one's brightest and best, of making an effort to interest, and being cheerful when it is not possible to be brilliant, is often selfishly neglected.

Life is an affair of mutual obligations, we have to thank most of our friends for kindness and patience, and encouragement, and owe it to them that often we do not return the favor, we are in need of being made to feel some trouble or grief, or are in need of some fresh, cheering thought, and when we give them our conversational best we are doing what we can to supply that need.

Many persons who would not think of going anywhere with a hardened head or a disagreeable cold or a disturbing cough, carry a gloomy face, a fit of the blues, an ill-tempered mood, on a visit to a party, without troubling that there is no end to it for their health, and when a visitor is at their house, make their hosts and hostesses by making it evident that they are not having a good time, and they have a depressing effect on everyone else.

Those who have a bright conversational gift should use it generally, bearing in mind how effectually it counters depression, differences, lapses of tact, and other drawbacks to enjoyment.

The anecdote of a famous and brilliant Frenchwoman who gave dinners at which there was little to eat is worth remembering.

Her butler once whispered to her, "Her master's only story is madame, and the guests will not notice there is no roast."

"Youth's Companion."

that contains mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely impair the digestive system when introduced through the mucous surfaces.

Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the d-mes are to be ten fold to the good you can probably derive from them.

Dr. C. L. Clegg's Cure for Catarrh contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Dr. Clegg's Cure be sure you get the genuine.

It is a legitimate medicine for woman, carefully adapted to her delicate organization. It builds up and invigorates the entire system, regulates and promotes all the proper functions, restores health and strength.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only remedy for woman's ills that's guaranteed. If it fails to benefit you, or cure you have your money back.

Which is the best to try, if you have Catarrh—a medicine that claims to have cured others, or a medicine that is backed by money to cure you?

The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy agree to cure your Catarrh, perfectly and permanently, or they'll pay you $500 in cash.

While it seems rather improbable that Dick Burge and Jack McAlpin will fight in New Orleans for the championship, it is not out of place to assume, if what a member of the Crescent City Athletic club tells can be taken as a criterion, that Billy Myer and the Englishman will come together before the above club in a short time. Negotiations are now in progress to match them. As far as Myer is concerned, he is willing to sign at once, providing a suitable purse is offered. Jim Hall, it is said, has been authorized by the Crescent people to sign Binge as soon as possible the latter expresses any desire to meet Myer. It was also said that should Myer and Binge fight, the winner will be matched against McAlpin.

Speaking of the above attraction to be at the opera house Saturday evening, an exchange says: "Carrie Joy sings with much sweethearts several vocal gems, and the performance concludes with Serviss LeRoy's marvelous exhibition of prestidigitation and white magic, in which he produces his sterling Illinois, 'Three Graces.' In this act Mr. LeRoy seemingly evolves three beautiful young ladies, with a very innocent looking cabinet which is open at all times, and apparently without means of concealing a copy of 'Grace.' Altogether, the Atheneum company presents a varied list of attractions.

John G. Imboden of Imboden Bros., to-day stated to a Republican reporter that the price of hogs in Chicago yesterday was the highest it had been in 20 years in the month of January. The price was $7.85 per hundred. This price was reached in January, 1892, but not exceeded.

A Coincidence.

While Prof. Bunting of Chicago, was lecturing to an audience at the Woman's Club last night on the labor question, Prof. Gastman, of this city, addressed the Philanthropic Club on the question connected with another class of laborers—the busy bees."

THE BURNS LECTURE.

The First of the Series, at the Woman's Club Hall, Delivered Last Evening.

The audience that assembled at the Woman's Club last night to hear Prof. Burns' first lecture on the labor question was small, but it is fair to say those present appreciated the lecture. After advising his audience to read certain books in the library, written by certain theorists, he proceeded to say that his purpose, in this lecture, was to consider "the nature and history of the labor question." By labor we mean those who work for wages including skilled labor and all except those who get large salaries. The wage workers make up a majority of the people." The interest in the labor problem, he said, was largely increased, and that there were serious times ahead unless labor and capital come to a better understanding and each recognises the rights of the other. He thought there was a great deal of disagreement on both sides and that in America there is as likely to be trouble as in Europe, where labor is not as well paid and the condition of the labor is not as good, which argues that the labor question and labor agitation is not based on either property or the reverse. The question, in his opinion, is, whether labor has a right to share in the profits.

He then called attention to the fact that 300 years ago there were no factories in England. Everything was done by hand in the houses or in large workshops but machinery came at last. Italy by a system of machinery made silk cheaper than they could be made elsewhere. John Lunde an Englishman, disguised himself, went to Italy and entered a silk factory as an employee and spied out the new methods and carried them to England, where they were adopted. The labor question then first appeared. Machinery next came that developed the cotton and woolen factories—the fly shuttle, the spinning jenny and the loom. In 1774 Watt gave the world the steam engine and the process of manufacturing went rapidly along until now the world works with machinery instead of tools. The capital invested in factories has increased per factory. In 1830 the average capital per factory was $4,500; in 1860 it had risen to $11,000. This development of capital has been a great boon to wage earners, resulting in the advancement of wage. Labor has gained a tremendous per cent of increase in the last few years in this country, and the cost of living has been reduced, except rents which have increased because land is more valuable. Before the war it required a day's work to buy a hauncherkin, now you can buy several dozen for the same amount of labor. Other articles are as easily obtained. In spite of the labor fears the increasing wealth of capitalist, hence its organization. Machinery and labor both deserve their reward for what is accomplished. The difficulty is to adjust matters so both will be satisfied. Each wishes to get the best of the bargain."

The Professor's next lecture in the course will be given next Wednesday evening. His topic will be "The Complications of Capital and Labor—What Will Be the Out-come?"

IN HONOR OF A GUEST.

A Large Company of Friends at the Hotel Long Take.

Dinner.

There was a charming fashionable reception and dinner party at the Hotel Long to-day from 12 to 3 o'clock, given by Mrs. J. E. Long in honor of her sister and guest, Mrs. H. A. Shepard, of Jerseyville, Ill. The hotel parlors were tastefully decorated with tropical plants and flowers and the curtains were drawn, illumination being supplied by gas. I was a very charming and brilliant gathering, all of the ladies appearing in handsome toiles. Mrs. Long was beautiful in a gown of rich black silk and lace. Diamonds and flowers, and Mrs. Shepard, who is a highly accomplished lady and charmingly amiable, was attired in a Silverstein tailor made costume of light gray, diamonds and flowers. The dinner which was really an elaborate banquet was served in the ladies' ordinary across the hall from the dining room. It was a spread of six courses. The guests at the tables were Mrs. Long, Mrs. Shepard, Mrs. D. Hosking, Mrs. J. W. Orane, Mrs. G. D. Thomas, Mrs. G. R. Stott and the Misses Wetherell and Mrs. Lucretia Dainty company next Tuesday evening at Abbott's Hall, a distinguished vocalist. Miss Domaus is the happy possessor of a voice of such exceptional range and purity, that it has been described by press and public everywhere as phenomenal. She has only been engaged a short time in concert work, but she has already attained to a position, that the manager regards herself as most fortunate in being able to secure her. Two members of the Anchor Social club were pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Stump on North College street last evening. It was a progressive domino party. Miss Ella McRoberts won the first prize, a silver pin tray, and Walter Kellogg bore off the consolation prize, a box of dominoes. A shoe supper was served at 11 o'clock. The guests were: Nettie Stump, Maud Lemming, Miss Troutman, Miss Nicholson, Kate Lehman, Miss Eliza Stump, Clara West, Miss Crane, Emma Weigand, Eliza Sherman, W. Hinchey, E. Weigand, and Messrs. Hack, Martin, Drechsler, Keener, Kellig, Bogg, Newman and Lewis.

During the reception and banquet Prof. Maxwell's orchestra played a number of selections, the mazurra filling the parlors and adjacent rooms.

The Military Ball.

The third annual military ball given last night at Guards' Armory by Col. G. Pugh Camp No. 14, Sons of Veterans, was a social and financial success. The attendance was large, the money by the Opera orchestra was good, and the affair was in every respect merry and enjoyable.

At intermission a banquet was served in the circuit court room by the Ladies' Aid society, which received attention. It was simply perfect, superb in variety and service.
